CLASS OVERVIEW

Advanced Projects Writing is a class for experienced essay writers to refine their academic work. Students will compose a series of different types of essay, including research papers, narrative essays, and literature analyses. The goals of this class are to show students more advanced forms of essay writing and to prepare them for Western classroom environments, both in high school and college. This course is appropriate for high school level students with lots of essay writing experience.

Curriculum is subject to change depending on the needs of the class.*
